

THE WHITE BUBBLE

"I Don't Know What You are Talking About." —TRUMP

YAHWEH IS LEADING:

"Seersgate" —that is not your legal name. Seersgate is a name Yahweh gives you. It represents the work plans Yahweh will put into your mantle. Your skill set and gifts will surge out from you, but the sphere of influence is not placed within. And to govern that "world" sphere, you must have Yahweh's impartation to do the work. Can't local pastors lay their hands on you and give an impartation? Yes, if you are within a local gathering under a local house. But I stripped you of staying under a local governing plan so you will not have any restrictions in following Yahweh as a reformation prophet.

I say this so that others would know how you are with Yahweh. And you did grow up in a church culture and spent your early young adult years in a local house. Seersgate, the church structure has become man-centered. They vote for office workers based on whether they are on the side of their house of political standing, yet they are wicked. They say, "I am standing with this political party," yet their private life sides with the others they oppose.

Servant, speak the truth in all Yahweh says. Do not add or take away from Yahweh's words. Say plainly, word-for-word, what Yahweh says. And Yahweh will back you. How will Yahweh back you? Start with a surging through Yahweh's sign gifts that Yahweh gave you. Let Yahweh go to those who carry a crack in their spiritual way, who will be able to take in a little taste. Servant, say all that Yahweh says.

YAHWEH SAYS IT:

Servant, they think that you would say everything that Yahweh says to you in a private meeting, but Yahweh wouldn't yield every weight in the way to show that a season of natural time must begin to bring the way into active seeing. You know Yahweh in the way of prophet training, and the political worldly way isn't your branding to build upon. Yahweh reveals the way to see this president as a tool to break a nation. It would be highly unlikely to have you viewed as a racist based on your heritage. Let them see it. Put it right here.

YAHWEH CONTINUES:

Seersgate, you share with the people that you are a way of mixture that forces you to hold no special place towards any race, for you are to be a bridge to the races of the world, showing the hurting ones that you are able to minister to them without a reservation towards any race. I say this heavy way of giving you an introduction to the people so that when they read what Yahweh will yield, they will see that you have no desire to hate anyone based on a different racial makeup. Now, here is what We—Yahweh—bring to the nation:

I look at how the United States takes in a great gathering of races to build a free plan for others, but I can also see how pockets of heavy racism brew. I will not say that the Hollywood actors color the people only. But I will make it plain that living in a circle of influence that is a solid White plan, Black plan, Hispanic plan, Asian plan, or governing way will skew how a gathering embraces how others would actually carry their nature. To say it in a simple way: if you have White as your way of race and only deal with those who act and look like you, the way of gaining insight to understand how race is with others would be handed down or based on what others give you that would shape you.

And this is why there was segregation, attempting to keep races “pure” in quotes. But no human is solely a solid race based on what they see from their parents. Just because your parents are both of the White race will not mean that the generations before in your family line did not carry other races within. This understanding of racial makeup is a very complex way of seeing. You look at hair texture, the shape of a nose, or how big their lips are and say that they should stand with White or Black or so on. Doesn't anyone understand what Yahweh's way of separation is? I separate based on the ways of following Yahweh. I did not let in tribes and groups of people based on their sinful living. These ancient cities sought after lowercase gods and not Yahweh. I did not embrace them due to how they wanted lowercase gods.

I punished the children of Israel for embracing false gods, not due to their skin color.

Have a look at what the president of the United States of America holds in high honor: those who pay him large sums of wealth, and the wealth is not always financial. But what should the president do? Step out of his White bubble and know who gives him the way to be president. How white is his bubble? He doesn't embrace staying in the physical White House building but splits his way to be with his circle. He views his work as a means to an end to gain greater influence to stabilize his White bubble network. He cannot stand with and embrace the working class due to having no identification with it.

Handed money from his youth, taking in wealth in words, wielding power using influence to build a brand to showcase. But never was it required of this president to work in the trenches with a lowered worker, yet he managed to be able to influence those in the lowest way in living conditions to say they would stand with him and "Make America Great Again." Why would his plan never work? Trump does not know or let in those who are not in his staple way of being with him in stature to turn him. No one who is of other ways of having their influence, if considered too below him, will gain his audience. The White bubble of race is yielded when another group or a different person in race or social standing will add to the showcase.

“Look at all I attained. Look at all who bow and kiss me with a compliment or giving of gifts. Look how they want what I offer them: a stripping of government wealth, breaking of the poorest, and a ‘pouring in’ into the standings that honor me. Look at how they want what I will do in this season.” —This is how Yahweh sees him.

Now, what would make certain racial groups stand with someone who doesn’t have their best interest grounded in his plan? That should be our next way, but we soon need to begin dealing with these lowercase territorial gods over the land there where you currently live. But here is a taste of understanding: People view the showcase of what the White bubble effect could bring, but they do not see past the slogans. They do not see what the fine print is in a bill governing a people group. They look at the showman and crave a way of inclusion.

“See how he says to look to the new way. See that! A promise to help me by making my pain go away.”

You don’t have a clear understanding of the president’s intentions, which differ from what you hope he meant by saying he will help you. His way is not your way in verbiage; look past the slogan. It is important to seek what he meant by saying he will make anything great again.

To have someone let you into their way of influence is to view them with respect.

What is Yahweh’s place in this? If you think We will give you a way of segregation in Heaven so you can have your White bubble there or your Black church or one way in a form of wealth bracket there, you should let Yahweh take a look at where you stand in being a Kingdom citizen. I will not separate races. I will not showcase any human. I will not allow worship to any lowercase human who has tricked My Church, having them worship him as a savior.

Hear Yahweh! I am not with your leader. The president is not a biblical David, and he is wicked. No surging from Yahweh stems in your president. And any person who says Trump is a natural king and Yahweh's servant spreads lies and is like their actual father—Satan.
