

THE ADVISOR

May 29, 2025

1:32 p.m. CST Houston

YAHWEH LEADS IT:

I focus on one advisor over many that surround President Trump. You have a way to know that Trump has what he calls a Faith office geared to lift up and separate those who would want to have associations. I look at this photo I asked you to put up here, and I actually do not see any real office prophet. A showcase of those who surround him gives a public presentation yet lacks spiritual power. How can I say that? Because Yahweh is the actual power source for any real power, and I do not have a witness in that gathering. What the president should have done: bow to Yahweh and ask for a real voice from Yahweh's way. The president should ask Yahweh for someone who will not tell him what he wants to hear but instead say what Yahweh says, whether using gentle words or harsh sayings.

What if a Muslim had their religion as the central element for the Faith office? How many would object to that? Yet the Christians come and take their religion and bring it to have as a placement for all to say is better. But why should a labeling of how Christians operate stand as the leading way without argument under Yahweh's way? Do the other religious ways stand with their other religions, or are they complacent in their own faith?

But what is Christianity? Is it shown by wearing a cross around your neck? Is Christianity revealed by sharing graphics on social media? Here is how I look at the head advisor of this Faith office who came in at the start: a payment for being in a showcase was her gift. The payment was: the Faith office.

(Here is a saying:) "Here! You are gifted an office to bring you an acknowledgment for being a pawn in my showcase. I look at how you add value to what I present at public functions disguised as religious outreach. I gave you what you want. Let me out of my fake way of pretending I want to be like your way." (End of saying.)

Trump is not a Christian, but he starts a Faith office. Trump hubs the Faith office under a classification of Christian plans yet carries no desire to be a true follower of a real King. What plan does this primary advisor give forward, who will never have the power to minister? What is the link?

You see? My real plan will not steer away from putting Yahweh first. A way of holiness will stem from My officer workers. Why surround yourself with advisors who tell you what you want to hear? Why get offended when there is a call to holy living and accountability? Why does Trump show anger towards those who correct him? There are personal root details that must be dealt with. But My advisor honored to serve in My courts MUST NOT bend to a wicked way but call out sinful ways.

If Yahweh has a prophet in this nation and the president calls that prophet to come and meet with him, I will not allow it. The person seeking Yahweh must show a bending and come to the prophet. That is showing honor to the office that Yahweh extends from His way. And then both can come under a roof and negotiate. Never must My prophet say what that natural leader says is the way.

If your president sends a note to you saying he wants to know what God says, I expect him to say that that is his intent. These so-called prophets are going around saying that Trump called them or Trump had them at the White House, and so on. But does that mean that he is actively looking to hear Yahweh say what should be moved on? Seeking out these so-called prophets without giving acknowledgment to Yahweh reveals how the person craves to be in step with how church culture would want that leader to be, even in showcase only. See that? It's these so-called prophets spreading how they talk with Trump, yet Trump is not saying that he seeks Yahweh.

Do not meet with any leader who is unwilling to state their actual intent. A public notice that shares private details is not needed. Rather, We—Yahweh—would have the first meeting shared under diplomacy. Then, after the fake press meeting under diplomatic actions, we can go in private with his wife and others on hand for accountability and have heart-to-heart sessions.

This former head advisor was a part of the showcase. But what happens when someone gets bored easily? Something must keep the link. I am not saying that she is gone or physically there by natural standings. I look, Yahweh looks, at how the spirit realm is. That is what Yahweh sees.

No one can fake having power from Yahweh. Either Yahweh has a way to push out that plan, or man tries other ways to claim they know Yahweh. What say you? If Yahweh has actual advisors working in natural secular office placements, would I stand behind that leader and pretend I submit? Yahweh will not ever bend.